STIFT TOOK NAP IN FIFTH ROUND

Fierce Battle With George Gardner in Ogden.

GRUELING CONTEST

Both Received Hard Knocks. But Billy Was Worse Battered-Gardner's Condition Improved.

OGDEN, Utah, June 20 .- George Gardner, of Lewell, Mass., knocked out Billy Stift, of Chicago, in five rounds at the Grand Opera House last night.

While the fight was of short duration great amount of punishment was handed out by both men, Stift receiving more than he delivered. Stift was a little too beefy, but he is a plucky fighter and can deal decisive blows. If he had been ten pounds lighter the five hundred fight fans would have seen a fight.

Gardner was in the best of condition, much better than he was when he met Schreck in Salt Lake over two months Schreck in Salt Lake over two months ago. The fight was the New England man's from the start, but he received punishment from the Chicagoan.

At 10:55 Gardner entered the ring with his seconds, and five minutes later Stift and his seconds appeared. In Gardner's corner were Chiller Geiger, Al Potter and Manager Gibson. In Stift's corner were Bartell, Jack Barnes and Sig Hart.

William Bean acted as official announcer and introduced James Donaldson, of Salt Lake, as referee. Bean also introduced Mike Schreck, who was received with applause, and who is to fight Dave Barry for the light heavyweight championship of the world in Salt Lake July 4.

Gardner was several pounds lighter than Stift, but he forced the fight and kept his opponent on the defensive.

Big Edmonston, who was on the rubber for the Institute, was effective at times and had nine strikeouts to his credit. Buscher was batted rather hard, but he was backed up in gilt edged Another gone.

Catcher Paddy Duff, who was tried out by New York and heralded as a wonder, and was later let out to Indianapolis, has been released by the Hoosiers. He will probably scrape together meal tickets this summer by playing with independent teams around New York.

Danny Hoffman, of the Athletics, leads the American League base stealers,

According to Harry Pulliam this will be the last season that there will be any strong independent teams. The experience of the past month when men have been jumping from one organization to another has taught the magnates.

Eight runs in the second inning decided the game between the Sixth Presbyterians and the Calvary Methodists in favor of the latter. Score 10 to 3.

Although Sixth had more hits than the winners the Calvaryites were able to hit safely with men on bases, and this, coupled with two costly errors, gave the Methodists an easy victory.

The batting of Wahler and the fielding of M. Clark were the features.

By Cleveland Team

Cleveland, 12: Nationals, 3. Long Tom Hughes and Delaware Pench Townsend received the staghtering at the hands of the Cleveland a yesterday that has been recorded in the annals of the American League

Nineteen times during the nine innings did Lajoie's band of champion-ship chasers wallop the National's pitchers' curves to all corners of the lot and had they felt so disposed it is likely that the visitors could have added many more hits to their total.

Of course the peerless Lajoie aed when it came to straightening out the curves it came to straightening out the curves. The Cleveland leader had seven balls served up to him during his six trips to the bat. Five of these resulted in clean hits, one was a foul, and the third was a fly to center. As though these were insufficient he completed the circuit three times, and in the field accepted seven chances in a way becoming a champ.

Others Followed Larry.

The Score.

Following Lajoie came Stovall and Jackson with three bingles. Every other clevelander who went to the bat had one or more hits except the two catchone or more hits except the two catchers. Buelow was indisposed, and after his team had sewed up the game, Lajoie let him turn over the mitt and pro-tector to Clarke. The latter was unable to hit safely, but both of his chances resulted in errors, so he was safe anyhow.

After Cleveland had gotten three the first and one in the second of the first and one in the second of Hughes, Stahl called the elongated twirler off, and sent Townsend in. All the twirlers looked alike to the visitors and they immediately proceeded to resume their bating matinee.

After the game had been cinched Dusty Rhoades let up and the Nationals got three runs, but that was all.

> to the score board of Knoll's liner in the second. Turner's three-spot in the fourth went almost to the fence in left center. Had t not been for Jones' sprinting the hit would have gone for a homer.

The crowd was the deadest of the season. There was scarcely any rooting during the whole game. Bill Bradley caught one of Townsend's fast ones on his right elbow, but Doc Payne was there with his little rub-rub and the third baseman resumed his journey.

Oatmeal Bill Wolfe was on the coaching lines trying to enliven things, but it was of no use.

There were more fouls than in any game this season. When Flick recovered Cassidy's triple in the sixth he held the ball until the Nationalite got to third and then he whipped the ball home in time to drive the Chester boy back. Clarke's return to Bradley caught Cassidy by a yard.

OF LARRY LAJOIE

Out of Seven Balls Pitched He Got Five Hits.

Those who went to see the ball game between the Nationals and Cleveland yesterday were treated to a novel specacle of batting by the only Lajoie, Washington. AB. R. H. PO. A. E. Out of six times up he made five hits but that was not the remarkable feature of the performance. In the half dozen journeys he made to the bat he was pitched only seven balls, which will probably stand as a record in this city for a long time to come.

Five of the seven balls were singles. ie was a foul and the other was a long fly to center field.

Maybe that isn't batting some and doesn't justify the posters announcing the only Larry as an added attraction when his team comes to town. He was able to reach out and get everything that was sent him, and if they came too close to his chest all he had to do was to stand back, give himself a little more leeway and bang the ball on the nose.

If there is not a change in the near future the fans will come to the conclusion that there is something radically wrong with the pitching staff of the Washington team. Early in the season Hudson. Washington .... 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0-3 Wrong with the pitching staff of the Cleveland ...... 3 1 0 1 4 2 1 0 0-12 Washington team. Early in the season it looked exceptionally good, and the slabmen were counted upon to make up for the weakness of Washington with the stick by keeping down the hits of the stick by keeping down the hits of the other fellows, but just now there is a general laxity which has enabled visiting teams to fatten their batting averages at their expense. Even the men who were counted the safest and surest have been going to pieces, and the National's will never regain the laurels which they have been losing of late unless there is a decided brace.
